GROUP OF COMPANIES

Supplier Code of Conduct

Introduction

OTE and its affiliates (OTE Group – A Member of DT Group) act in accordance with the OTE Group Code of Conduct, the Code of Human Rights and the Artificial Intelligence (AI) Guidelines.

Based on OTE Group core values addressing business ethics, human rights and environmental commitments, OTE Group requires the Supplier to adhere to the hereafter listed Principles (as defined below) which will be attached to the contract entered between them (the “Contract”). The Supplier shall implement these Principles through its whole supply chain. This Supplier Code of Conduct is not intended to replace the laws and regulations in force in any country where OTE Group suppliers operate. It seeks to encourage and respect these laws and regulations and ensure that they are faithfully and effectively enforced.

The Principles

1. Essential contractual obligations

The Parties agree that the compliance with the Supplier Code of Conduct (“SCoC”) is an essential contractual obligation under the Contract.

The Supplier shall use reasonable efforts to also obligate their sub-suppliers, contractors and/or subcontractors (herein after referred to as “Subcontractors”) and its affiliated companies to comply with the Principles of the SCoC insofar as they are involved in provisioning the contractually agreed deliverables and services under the Contract. The Supplier may oblige its Subcontractors to comply with its own code of conduct, provided that the content of this code of conduct corresponds to the principles of the SCoC.

2. Relationship with National and International Law

In addition to complying with the following provisions as detailed in sections 3 to 6 below, the Supplier shall always comply with applicable laws, regulatory provisions and the contractual obligations as agreed between the Supplier and OTE Group (“the Parties”). This shall include the US Foreign Corrupt Practices Act and the UK Bribery Act where applicable. Furthermore, the Supplier shall adhere to any international trade sanctions (including embargoes) which shall include any sanctions that may be in force as a result of a resolution passed pursuant to Chapter VII of the UN Charter by the UN Security Council, and any sanction that may have been imposed by the European Union.

3. Underlying Principles

The Supplier shall respect internationally acknowledged human rights and shall avoid being complicit in human rights abuses of any kind. The basis for this is the expectation on suppliers as published in OTE Group's "Code of Human Rights". The Supplier shall respect in particular the personal dignity, privacy and rights of each individual. Slavery in all forms is forbidden.

Furthermore, the Supplier shall adhere to all standards and conventions drawn up by the International Labour Organization (ILO).

4. Human Rights and Fair Labor Practices

OTE Group expects all its Suppliers without limitation to

- (1) comply fully with all employment laws in the respective countries,
- (2) share its commitment to respect all human rights as outlined in Section 3 and to provide equal opportunity in the workplace as set forth in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights, the UN Global Compact Principles and the ILO Core Labour Standards, and

The Supplier must respect workers' rights to freedom of association, collective bargaining, and peaceful assembly including the right to refrain from such activities in accordance with local legal requirements and responsibilities as well as international standards such as International Labour Organization standards, whichever are stricter. Workers should not be intimidated, harassed or face reprisal for exercising this right. When local laws or circumstances restrict these rights, the Supplier should pursue other ways of engaging in meaningful dialogue with its workers on employment issues and workplace concerns.

4.2 Child Labor

Child labour must not be used or supported in any kind and is strictly prohibited under any circumstance. OTE Group will not do business with any Supplier that violates such child labour prevention requirements either directly or indirectly.

The Supplier is mandatorily required to meet and comply with particularly the two fundamental ILO Conventions on child labour

- Convention No.138 on Minimum Age and Convention No. 182 on the Worst Forms of Child Labour. The Supplier must not employ anyone under the age of 15, under the age for completing compulsory education, or under the legal minimum working age for employment, whichever requirement is most restrictive. The Supplier is required to have a remediation plan in place to ensure that, in the event of any child labour detected, the Supplier must cure such event and follow international standards or local legal requirements without undue delay. OTE Group supports all forms of legal youth employment, including the development of legitimate workplace apprenticeship programs for the educational benefit of young people. The Supplier must prohibit workers who are under the age of 18 from performing work that is likely to jeopardize their health or safety such as night work, overtime, heavy lifting and working with toxic or hazardous materials.

The Supplier shall prohibit and fight negative discrimination based on ethnic origin, colour, sex, sexual orientation, language, religion or belief, political or other opinion, national or social origin, property, birth age, health status, disability or other status, and shall promote diversity, equality of opportunity or treatment in employment and occupation. This also includes the payment of unequal remuneration for work of equal value. The Supplier shall treat all employees with respect and shall not use corporal punishment, mental or physical coercion, any form of abuse or harassment or threat of such treatment.

4.4 Remuneration and Prohibition of Forced Labour

The Supplier must provide fair remuneration for all employees and workers, including, but not limited to employees who are permanent, temporary, dispatched, disabled, migrant workers, apprentices, and contract workers. Such compensation must meet the legal minimum standards as required by local law and at the levels expected in the industry. Where no national legal standards exist, the remuneration shall be sufficient to meet basic needs according to the ILO convention C131 on minimum wage. The basis on which workers are paid shall be clearly conveyed to them in a timely manner. The Supplier shall not use deductions from wages as a disciplinary measure.

The Supplier shall not employ persons in forced labour. This means any work or service which is required of a person under threat of punishment and for which he or she has not made himself or herself available voluntarily, for example as a result of debt bondage or human trafficking.

The Supplier shall refrain from all forms of slavery, practices similar to slavery, servitude or other forms of domination or oppression in the environment of the place of work, such as extreme economic or sexual exploitation and humiliation.

The Supplier must not use private or state security forces to protect the business project if, due to a lack of instruction or control on the part of the Supplier, there is a threat of the security forces being used in violation of the prohibition of torture or cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment, or against life and limb, or against freedom of association and union.

4.5. Working Hours

The Supplier is prohibited from requiring workers to work more than the maximum hours as set by international standards, including the International Labour Organization, around standard working hours (Conventions 1, 14 & 106), local and national laws, or in the freely negotiated and legitimate collective agreement, whichever are most restrictive. This management system must include procedures to address incident recordkeeping, investigation, and correction action.

- Provision and instruction on the usage of adequate personal protective equipment at no cost for workers.
- Prohibit the use, possession, distribution, or sale of illegal drugs.

The emission of harmful substances shall be controlled at workplaces, where these are handled, in a way that the concentration is within the limits of local worker protection regulations, or, in the absence of such regulations, the concentration is below the limits causing at long-term exposure health hazards. Likewise, equipment shall be available that allows rapid intervention in case of spillage, fire, or personal contact with such harmful substances.

4.7 Grievance Procedures

The Supplier must in an appropriate manner provide employees with effective grievance procedures for raising workplace concerns, including concerns involving harassment and discrimination, to the attention of management for appropriate resolution. Workers must be given a safe environment to provide their grievances and feedback. The Supplier must review these reporting procedures periodically and regularly monitor the resolution status of incoming allegations or concerns.

The grievance procedures provided must be accessible, culturally appropriate, and include the option to report anonymously where appropriate and/or possible. Workers and/or their representatives must be able to openly communicate and share ideas and concerns with management regarding working conditions and management practices without fear of discrimination, reprisal, intimidation, or harassment. The Supplier must periodically provide workers with information and training on all grievance procedures.

All forms of retaliation against workers for raising a workplace concern are strictly prohibited. The Supplier shall not retaliate through use of personal attacks, intimidation, or other threats against workers who act to raise workplace concerns, including infringement of worker rights under local legal requirements or international standards.

In addition, the Supplier shall inform its employees about the usability of the publicly available whistleblower portal «Tell me!» of OTE Group.

If the Supplier does not have its own grievance procedures, the information about OTE Group's whistleblower portal «Tell me!» is sufficient; the other principles set out in this section apply accordingly.
